The Adventures of H_2O Jo and Flo

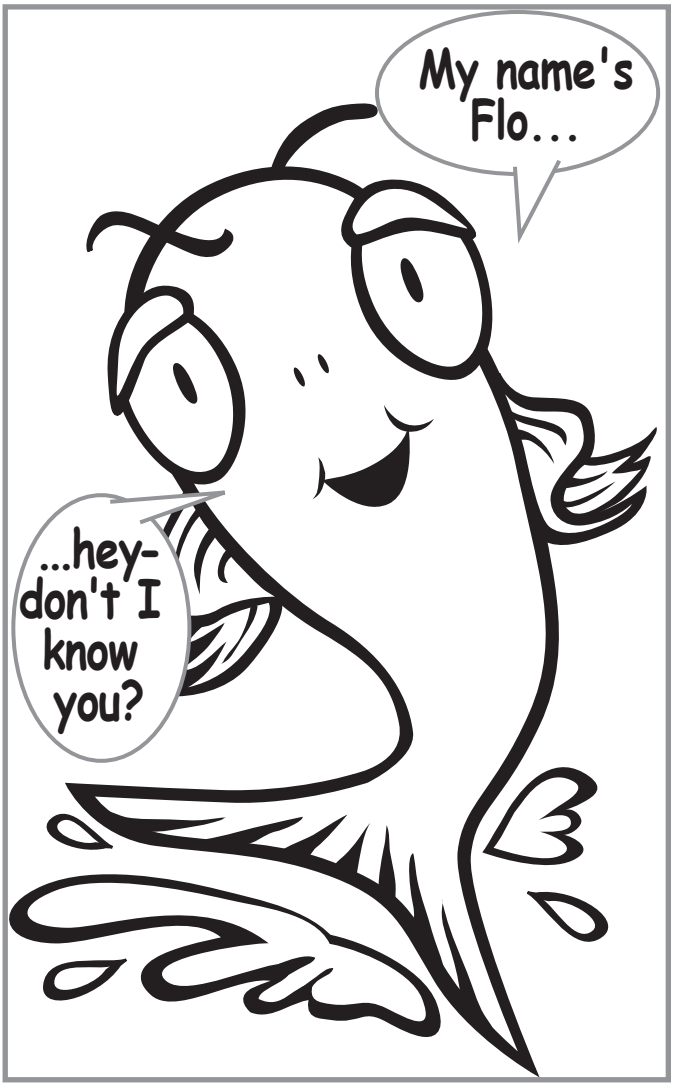
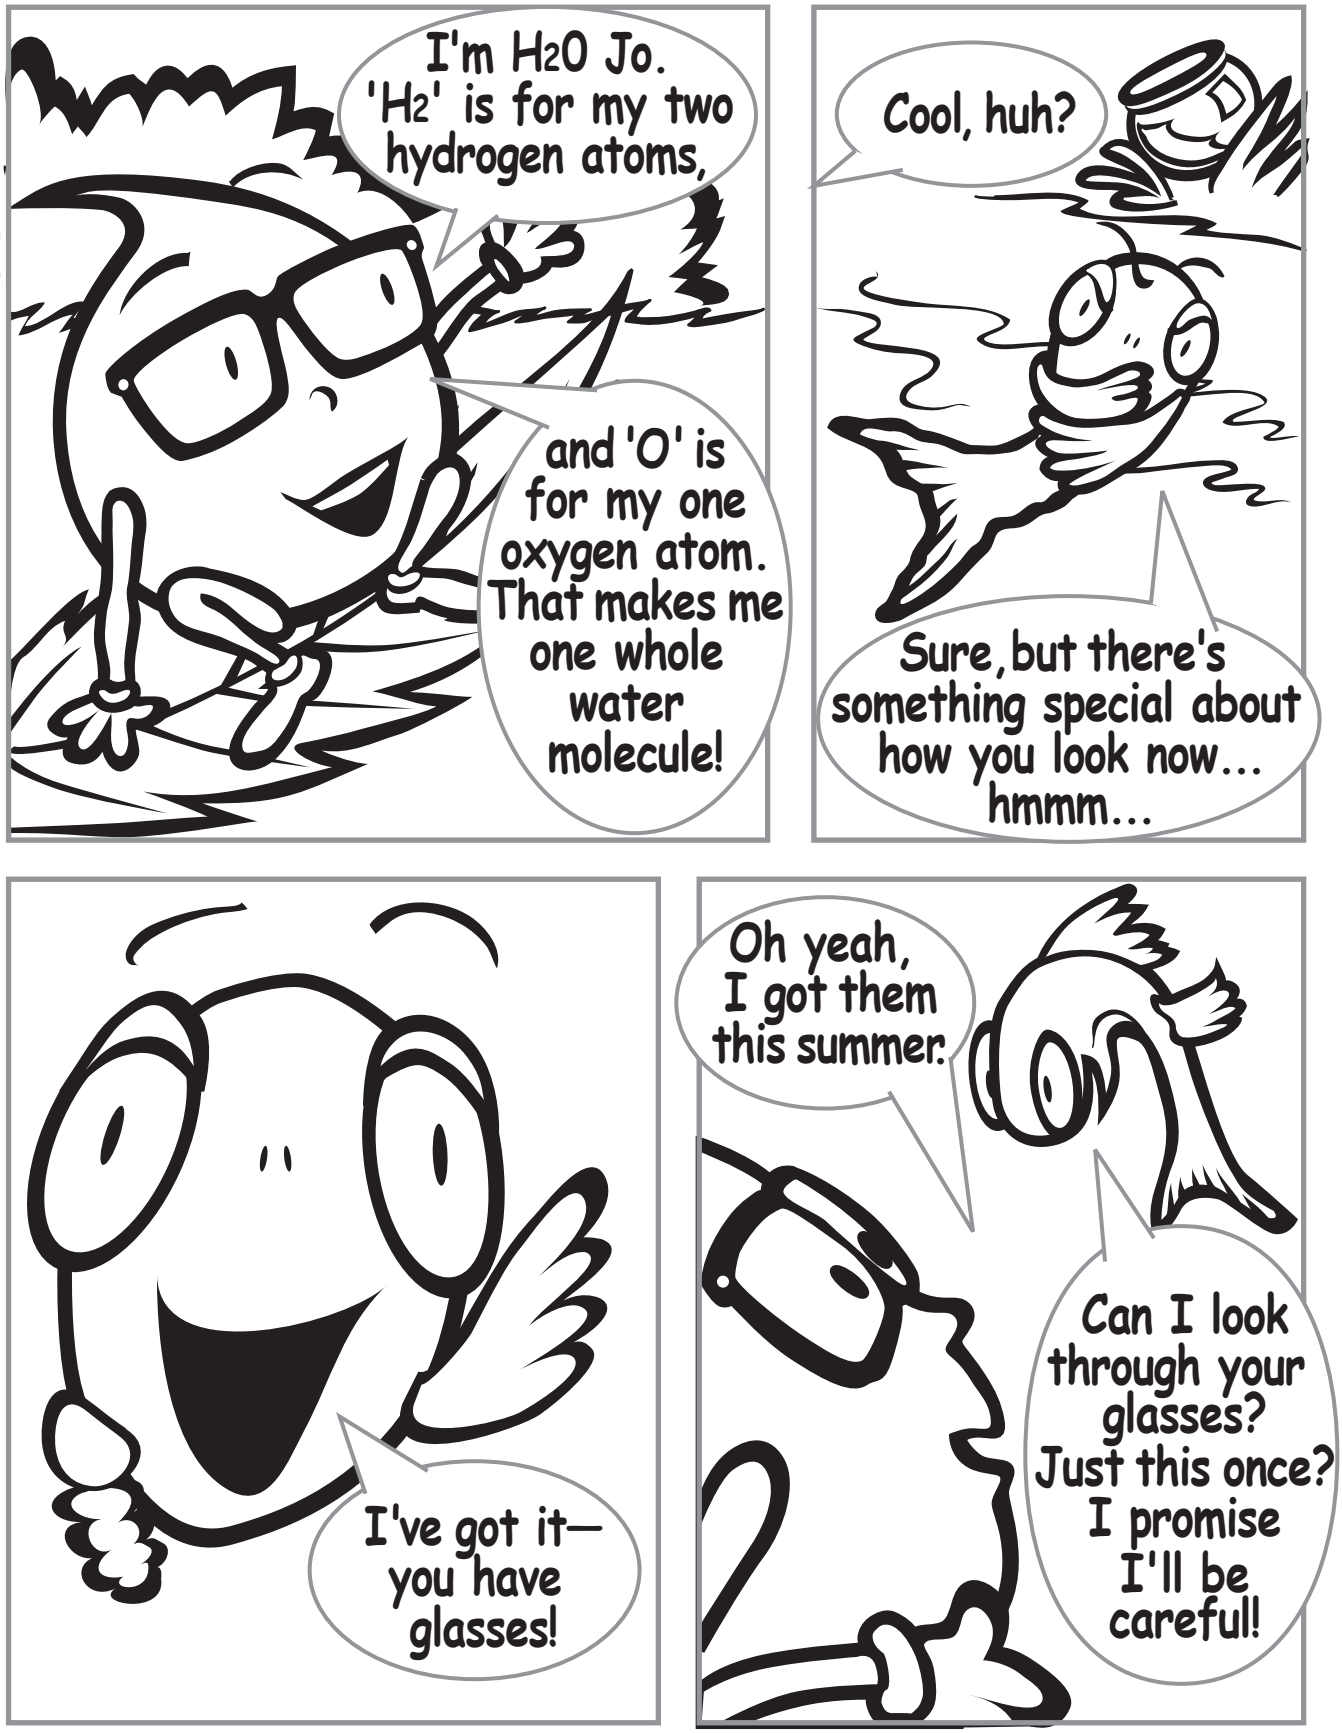
Ta Da!

HA! HA!
WOW--- you're good!
HA! HA!
Thanks! So are YOU!



My name's Flo...
...hey- don't I know you?



I'm H2O Jo. 'H2' is for my two hydrogen atoms, and 'O' is for my one oxygen atom. That makes me one whole water molecule!
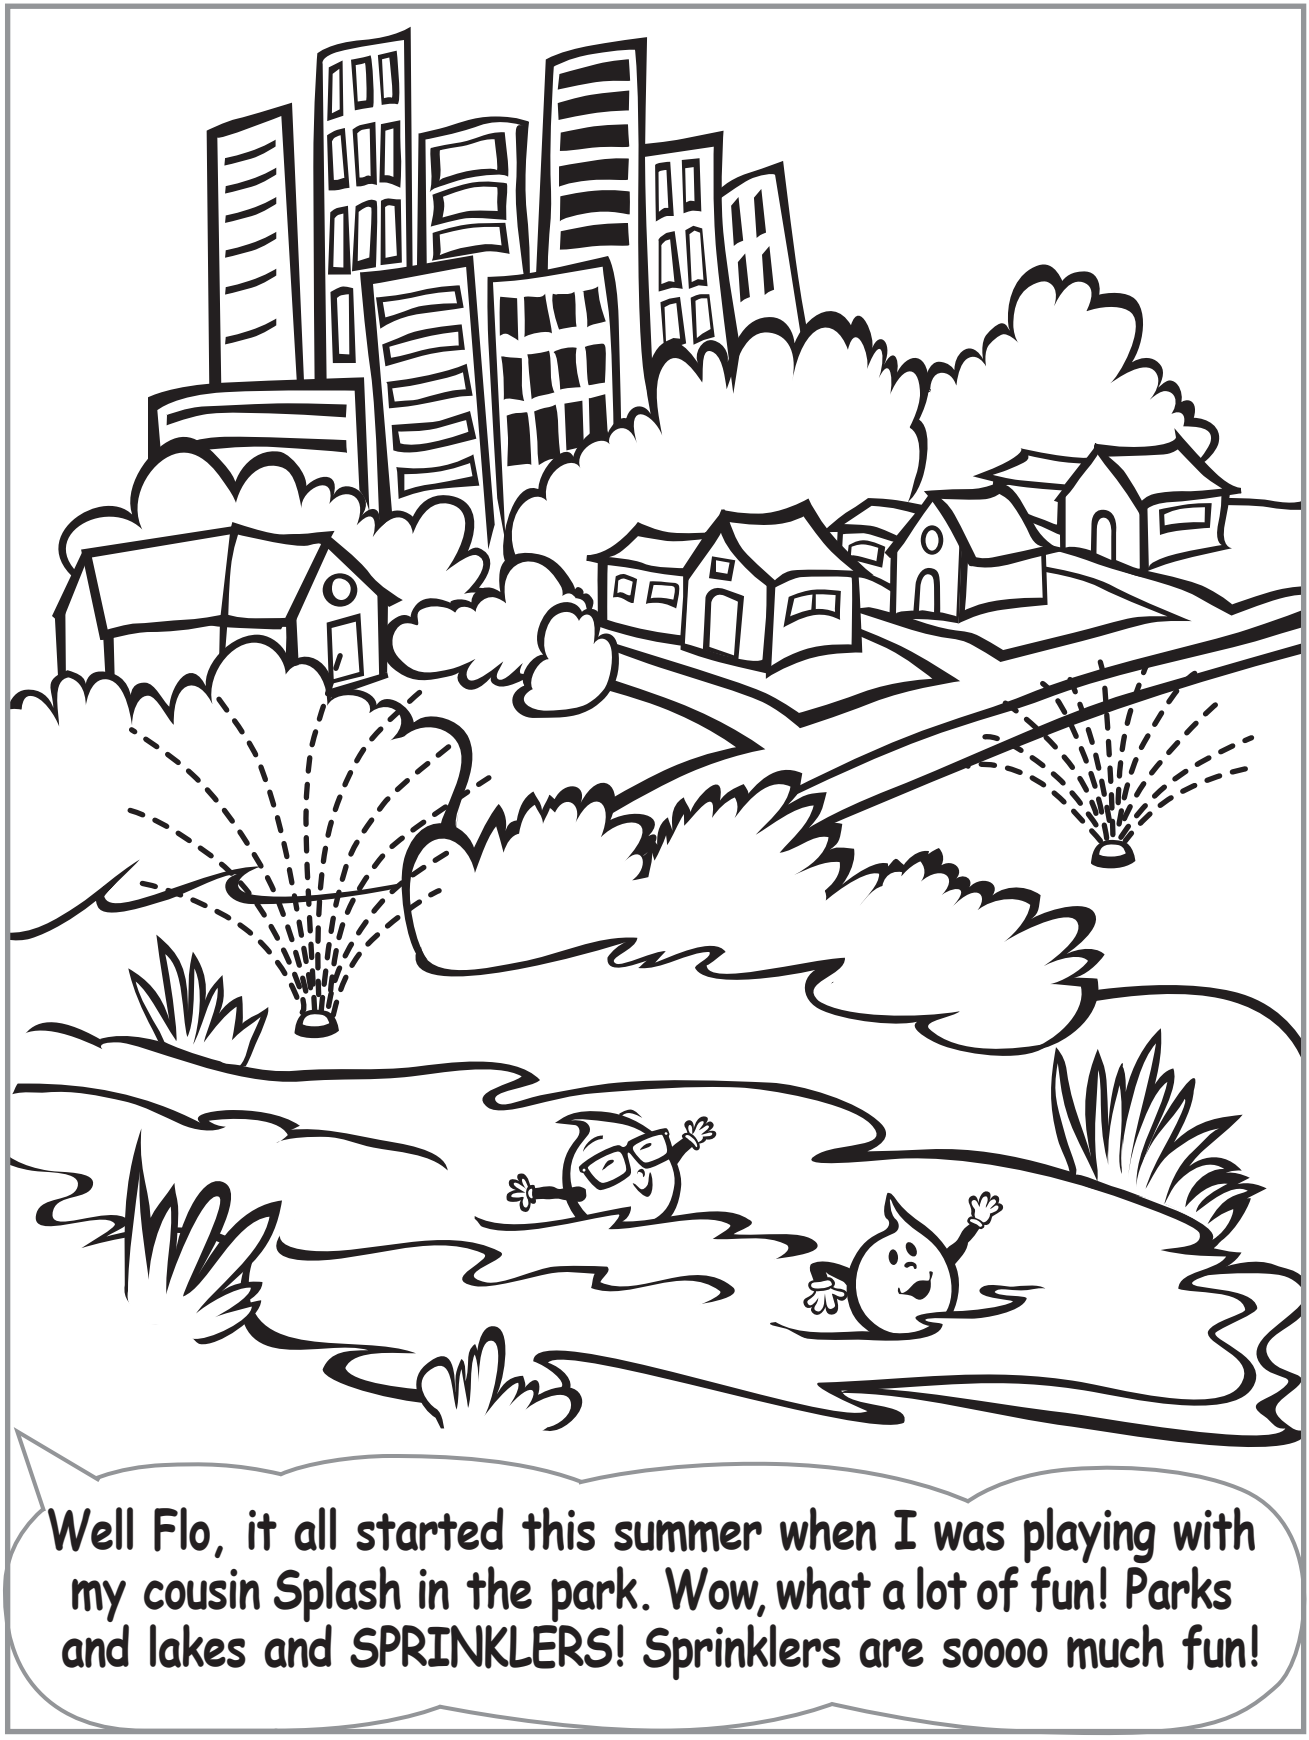
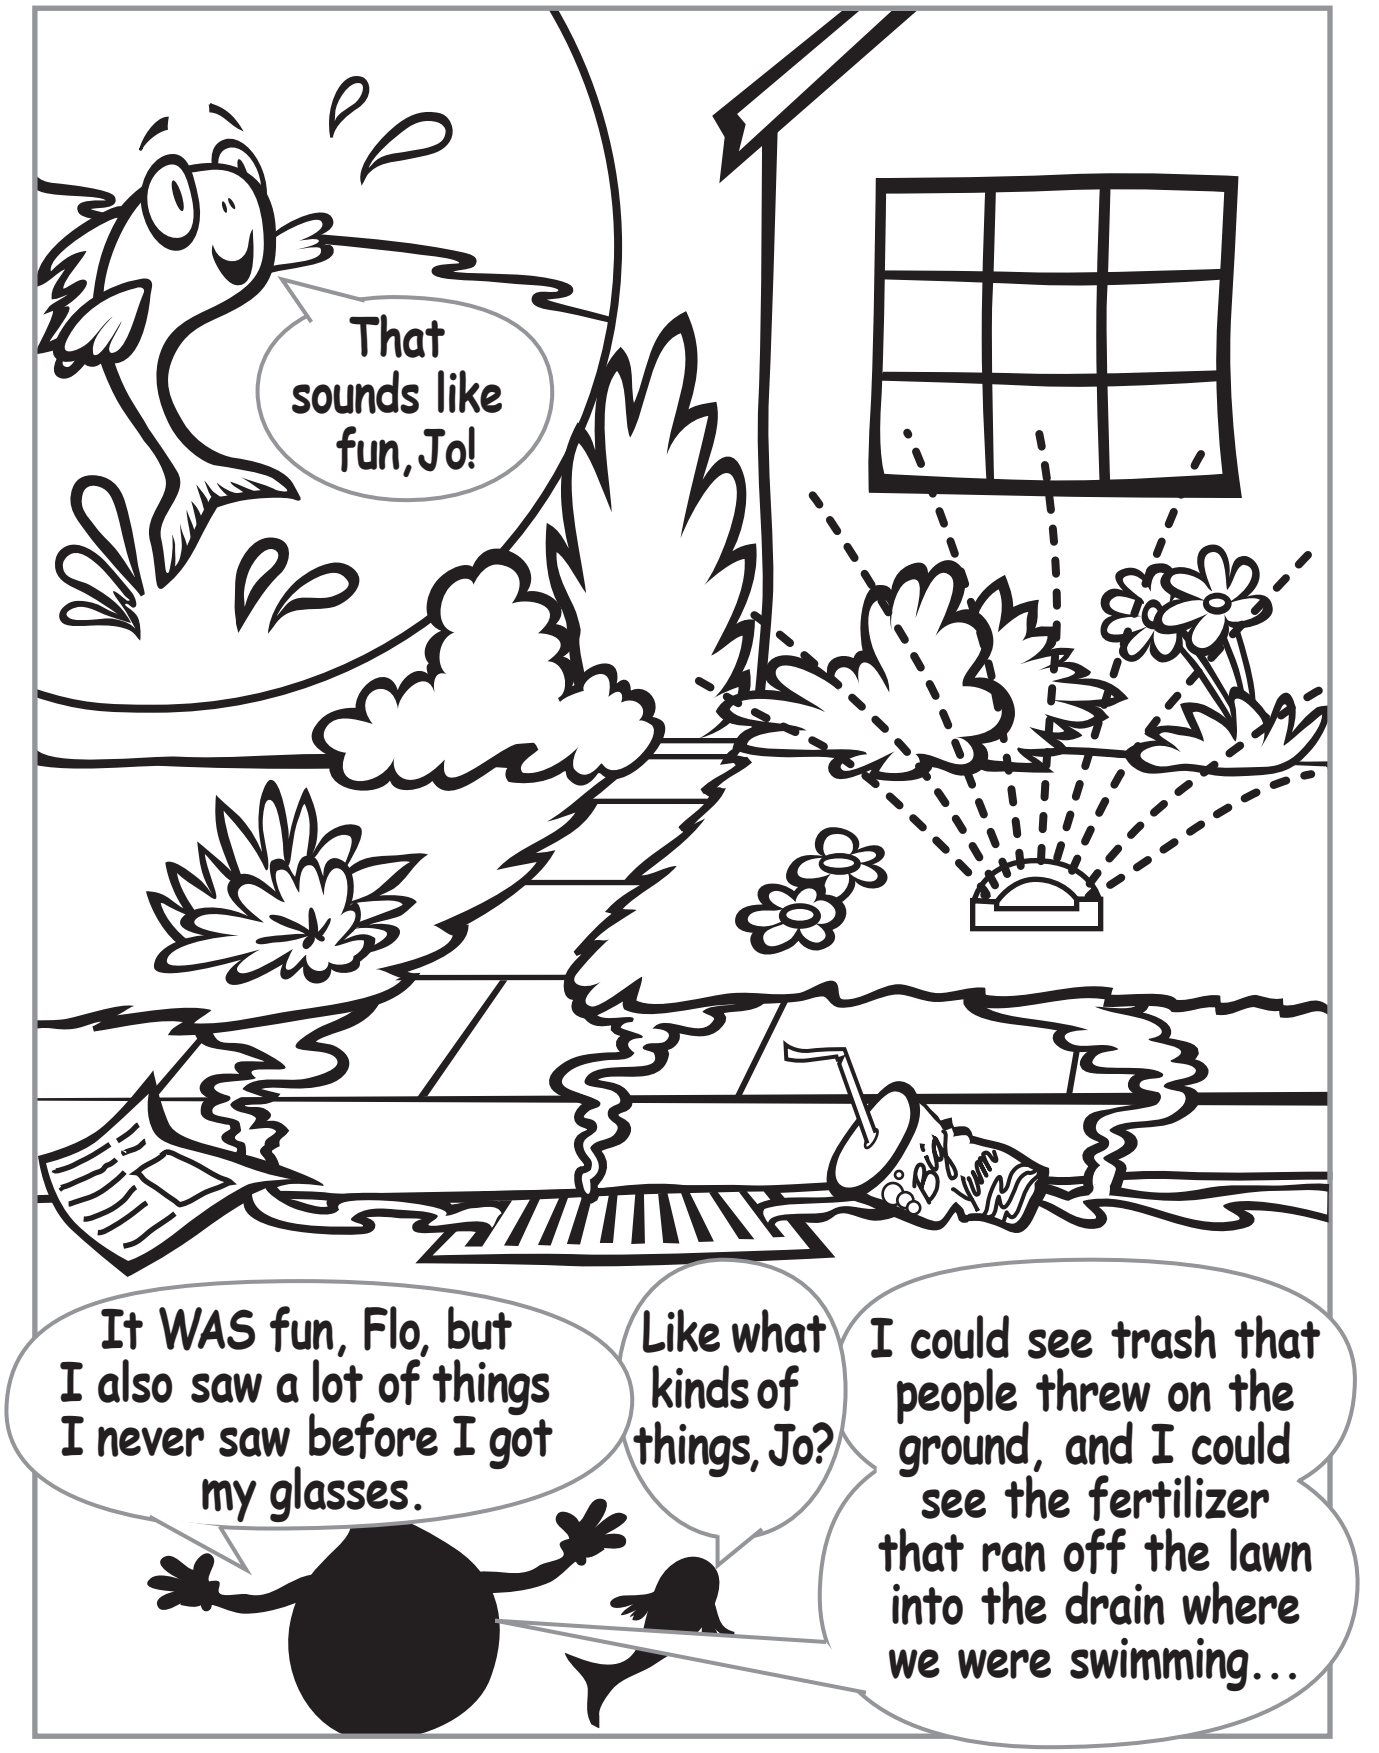
Cool, huh?
Sure, but there's something special about how you look now... hmmm...
I've got it— you have glasses!
Oh yeah, I got them this summer.
Can I look through your glasses? Just this once? I promise I'll be careful!

Sure, give them a try!
WOW, I can see EVERYTHING!

Yep, me too!
I can even see things that I didn't know were there before--- in fact, I wish everybody could see them!
Whaddya mean, Jo?



Well Flo, it all started this summer when I was playing with my cousin Splash in the park. Wow, what a lot of fun! Parks and lakes and SPRINKLERS! Sprinklers are soooo much fun!



That sounds like fun, Jo!
Big Yum
It WAS fun, Flo, but I also saw a lot of things I never saw before I got my glasses.
Like what kinds of things, Jo?
I could see trash that people threw on the ground, and I could see the fertilizer that ran off the lawn into the drain where we were swimming...

And I could see how people who owned pets...
...and worked on their cars sometimes forgot and left yucky stuff behind.
YUCK!
I want to tell everyone to be more careful...
...because all that stuff gets in my home!

And it makes plants and animals sick.
And people, too!
Let's go, Jo! We can be the team that tells everyone to keep it clean...
...'cause we're all downstream!

H_2O Jo & Flo's Advice For Keeping Water Clean

Did you know...

Litter on the ground can get into our creeks and streams...

TIP:
Put litter in the trash can!

Pet waste contains bacteria that may end up in our local waterways.

TIP:
Scoop the Poop!

Fertilizer from your lawn can run into our streams and hurt people and animals.

TIP:
Use fertilizer sparingly!

One gallon of oil can contaminate up to one million gallons of water.

TIP:
Recycle used motor oil!

Keep it clean
'cause we're all downstream!
